

Research - Corporate 02.10.2016 Update

The premises, concepts and practices of the business world are always evolving and moving with new contexts. For more than 25 years, Dewar Sloan has engaged in research that explores new perspectives, approaches, theory-making and constructs for strategy and organization development. Our Corporate Research priorities for the 2016-2018 horizon include the following themes:

- Strategy Integration and Execution Concerns

Common challenges and organizational barriers to more effective strategy integration, execution, and driving the focus on results.

- Board and Executive Perspectives on Strategy

General board governance practices in strategy direction and capacity relative to corporate views on making strategy happen.

- Organizational Learning and Strategy Mindset

Emerging "smart organization" models for engaging corporate culture with technical, analytic, relational and solution savvy.

We hold general briefings on these important research priorities from time to time. Some content is released in articles and business presentations. For more information, or for questions on the scope and applications of these unfolding research subjects, contact dboomer@dewarsloan.com.

---

Our extended research team includes corporate executives, academic leaders, content and subject matter experts, consultants, journal editors, industry leaders, technical advisors, project interns, communication and media analysts, and our practice advisory board.